Forecast for Tuesday 11 Apr 2023

Weather: Showers, wintry on summits, at first, becoming isolated by afternoon with some sunny intervals for a time. Cloud thickening to bring rain and summit sleet to Arran around mid-afternoon extending north into the Southwest Highlands late afternoon and early evening, where the snow level will be nearer 500m, with blizzards eventually developing at higher elevations in the strengthening east or southeasterly gales.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 800m: 40% rising 75% by afternoon, then falling quickly to 20% or less late afternoon and evening.

Low Cloud and visibility: Occasional cloud to 700m becoming patchy above 1000m for a time, then widespread cloud then developing at 750m with patches to 600m by early evening, with poor visibility at lower levels in heavier rain, very poor in snow and summit blizzards.
